Forum™

Connect with your audience.™

Forum is for presenting wherever business takes you. Present in-person directly to anyone's phone, tablet or laptop—the devices your audiences already have—to share presentations and receive participant input anywhere without the internet, dongles or cables. You can turn any space into a meeting room, whether it's an open office, huddle space, cafeteria, outdoor patio—anywhere.

Forum turns your laptop into a connected, meeting hub. Forum software can be used anywhere. It turns your laptop into a multi-person presentation tool that connects to any Wi-Fi-enabled device. An optional router can expand the range and audience members.

Every seat becomes a front row. There isn't a bad seat in the house when every device displays your presentation. Every phone, tablet or laptop becomes an additional engagement tool for more productive meetings with Forum. No more struggling to see someone else's screen.

Make your own network. No Internet Required. Forum works on any network—with or without the internet. Whether it's a personal network (Wi-Fi), an enterprise network (LAN) or a portable network (travel router), Forum allows you to present whenever and wherever.

All devices welcome. Any Wi-Fi-enabled device that walks into your next meeting can connect to Forum. By using the most common technologies (Wi-Fi & browser), Forum connects to audiences on the devices they already have.

Turn any space into a meeting room.
Work in an open floor plan or running out of meeting space in a crowded office?
Forum helps turn any space into a meeting room by easily connecting devices for an impromptu presentation.

Connect beyond the office. Forum works great anywhere people gather to meet and share ideas. Common use-cases that happen every day—need a tool like Forum, such as:
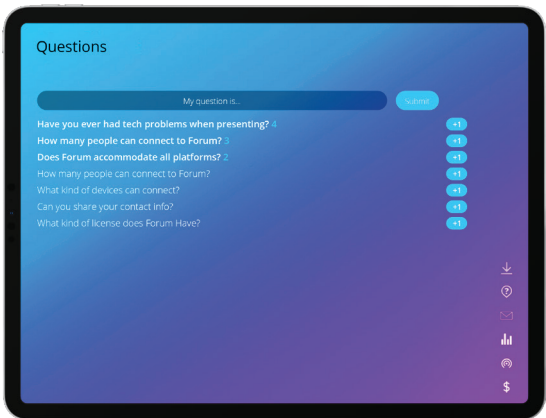

- Internal company meetings
- Sales calls in the field
- Training sessions
- Confidential meetings
- Classrooms
- Press/media events
- Town halls and rallies
- Sports-teams in transit
- Public tours
- Manufacturing floors
- Healthcare-related meetings
- Tradeshows

Engage every audience. Powerful engagement features allow you to interact with audiences in new ways and take advantage of opportunities when they happen. These features can even help with lead generation and analytics.

FILE SHARING

Files of any type (including the presentation) can be made available for download at any time during a presentation.

AUDIENCE POLLS

Poll audiences and aggregate the answers over multiple meetings. Discover audience trends and gain insights.

CONTACT EXCHANGE

Securely exchange contact information with your audience for follow up after the meeting.

SCREEN SHARING

Forum can easily share your screen directly to audience devices to show videos, apps or demonstrations in real-time with no additional downloads required.
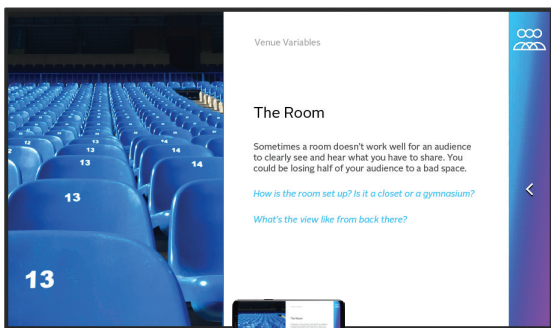

Meeting analytics. Access results of your audience polls and questions to improve your presentation, product, or brand. Track this data over time and discover trends that can inform your business moving forward—and become a smarter presenter that's more in-tune with their audience.
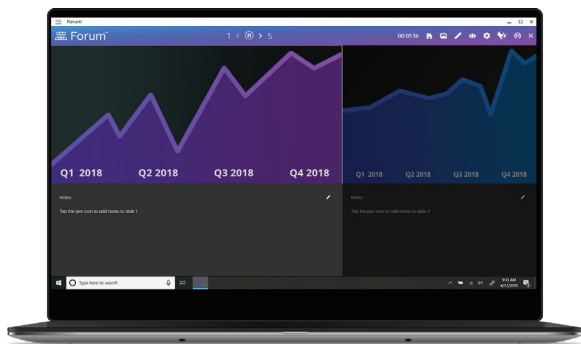

MULTI-SCREEN EXPERIENCE

Own the room. Forum is a multi-device, presentation experience and can split the presenter's view across 1, 2, or 3 screens. Manage questions directly from the audience on one screen while having your notes visible on another. You can even use your phone as a wireless remote to navigate slides.
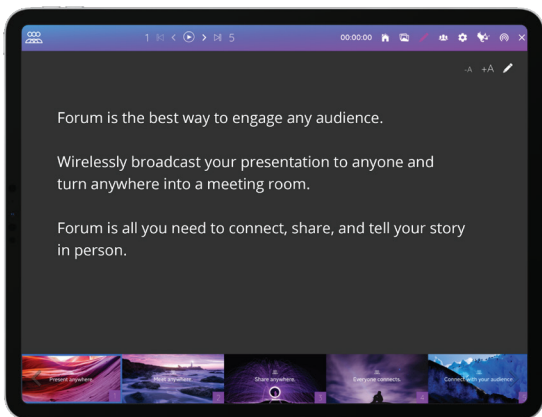

PRESENTATION VIEW

Show the presentation on your screen or any number of connected screens.

SLIDES VIEW

See the current slide, upcoming slides and associated notes.

NOTES VIEW

Makes the presenter's notes easy-to-read at a glance.

Problems when presenting. Every presenter knows that panicked feeling when valuable meeting time is being wasted because of all the technical issues that can (and usually do) go wrong while setting up for a meeting. How many times have you fumbled over the projector or can't locate the right dongle? Or how about Mac vs PC issues? The frustrations are many and complex, but Forum eliminates them all.

Gathering around small laptop screens struggling to see a presentation

Finding the right adapters or cords to connect meeting displays

Accessing secure corporate networks

Downloading extra software just so audiences can participate

Keeping your audience interested and engaged

Be ready for business anywhere.

Workforces are spending less time in traditional offices and becoming more flexible about where they work and meet. Technology that connects us directly—with or without the internet—allows us to take advantage of more business opportunities when and where they happen.

Maybe you're thinking...

"...we already use Zoom, Skype or GoToMeeting."

Forum isn't a video conferencing solution that connects people across the country. It's for making meetings easier when presenting in person—anywhere you want.

"...but we already use Powerpoint."

Forum isn't used for crafting presentations, but for broadcasting them to in-person audiences. You can still create with PowerPoint, Keynote or any other presentation-building software and use Forum.

Forum is ready to transform how people meet, share ideas and engage audiences in all new ways.
